Re: Make Your Own Sourdough with Victoria Miller
Attachments: Victoria Redhead Miller.jpg

Back by popular demand, Victoria Redhead Miller, author of From No-knead to Sourdough: A Simpler Approach to Handmade Bread will present Make Your Own Sourdough at the North Olympic Library System (NOLS). Miller will provide instruction on making, maintaining, and baking with sourdough in your own kitchen. Presentations will be held at the Port Angeles Main Library on Thursday, January 31 at 6pm, and again at the Sequim Branch Library on Saturday, February 2 at 1pm.

Sourdough starter, activated by wild yeast, can be used for making a lot more than just loaf breads and pizza. Miller will show that it's easier to use and keep than you might think. She will provide instruction on making, maintaining, and baking with sourdough in your own kitchen. Register now to go home with your very own jar of sourdough starter!

Victoria Redhed Miller lives on a 40-acre off-the-grid farm outside of Sequim. In her newest book, she blends her own journey toward self-reliance with her fascination for traditional homesteading skills and love of good food. Miller's previous books include Craft Distilling and Pure Poultry.

Space is limited and registration is required to attend. Register at www.nols.org or by contacting your local NOLS branch. Participants are invited to bring their own pint-sized jars with a wide mouth and a lid; some jars will be provided. Miller will have copies of her books for sale and signing after each presentation.

This program has been generously funded by the Port Angeles Friends of the Library and Friends of Sequim Library. For additional information about this and other upcoming programs at your Library, visit www.nols.org, email discover@nols.org, or contact your nearby NOLS branch location.
