Second Saturday Science will be offered at the Sequim Branch of the North Olympic Library System (NOLS) on Saturday, February 8 at 10:30am. The Second Saturday Science series—for ages 7 to 12—creates fun, hands-on opportunities for children to explore concepts related to science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM). During this session, presenters from the Pacific Science Center will guide participants in exploring the world of optics; learning the locations and functions of various parts of the eye. Registration is required; to register, visit www.nols.org, or contact the Sequim Branch Library.
