The North Olympic Library System (NOLS) is honoring Indigenous Peoples' Day this year by hosting a virtual Indigenous Peoples' Day Poetry Slam to celebrate the creativity and survivance of local Indigenous voices. The Slam will be presented on Zoom and NOLS' Facebook Live on Monday, October 11 at 7pm. Visit nols.org or call the Library for the Zoom information; Zoom has call-in capabilities so you may listen in without internet.

Indigenous Peoples' Day is recognized on the second Monday in October, to honor the past, present, and future of Native Americans in the United States. NOLS has partnered with a local Indigenous poets group who selected the presenters for this program. The Indigenous Peoples' Day Poetry Slam is recommended for viewers age thirteen and older. Parental discretion is advised. The event will also be available live on the NOLS Facebook page and a recording of the event will be available on NOLS social media platforms.

This program is generously supported by local Friends of the Library groups. For more information about this program, visit www.nols.org, email Discover@nols.org, or call 360.417.8500.
