Lena Discusses Nation

I am certain of only one thing and that is that we cannot continue forever on our present course of uncontrolled inflation without disaster. There voter power that far over are people alive today who remember the depression of 93 and even a very very few who were born before the depression of 1873. As for that of 1929, well any grandparents can remember that and when those periods came along we did not have a multibillion load of national, other public and personal debts, and gadgets without end, (mostly only for our convenience but not at all necessary) with payments due for months and years ahead.

If you were to find the foundation of your house being undermined by a stream you would not expect it to stand firm forever, but would know that eventually it would become unbalanced and go down all at once with a crash, so why can't many of us see that unless we can stop the growing inflation our economic house will surely crash.

If our government is wise the first thing that must be done is to stop inflation, and I don't mean by such uneffective methods as super taxing of income, for that is only taking it from one pocket to release it in another, from which it can be taken with equal ease.

Government spending contributes to inflation no less than corporate and private spending. The first step therefore should be a balancing of the budget and at least a 5% reduction of the national debt each year. Could you or I survive on a perpetual deficiency budget? No, we all know we couldn't and neither can the Government

We have attempted to control industrial monopolies, at least we have laws to that effect. Industry has money power so must have controls in the public interest. Labor

Safety common sense dictates that you remove your remote fuel tank from the boat whenever you refill it. This insures that no gas will spilled into the boat, say the Mercury boating authorities. It also facilitates proper mixing of the oil and gas. When filling your remote gas tank, pour in a small amount of gas and an equal amount of oil. Mix thoroughly by shaking or stirring vigorously; then add baltince of oil (follow manufacture) recommendation) and gasoline and monopoly is equally deplo able and industry wide contracts are of course monopolistic. Labor unions have balances the economic power of any industry. The public must suffer when the huge industry complexes are allowed to contract with great all over unions and the consumer has no say so. We of course have these luxury producers whose products anybody can do without so what arrangements of a labor industrial contracts exist between them is really no public concern, but what about the things people really require. Here the intrusion of the consumer interest is impera-

So first of all let us break up monopoly powers and forbid contracts between industrial associations combined with super unions and the interference of any outsider with the agreements between an employer and his employees, with only the interest of the public allowed to intrude. A large majority of the public already favor price and wage fixing which fact shows how precarious conditions already are if the average man has reached such an extreme conclusion. Maybe better late than never, but someone long before now should have had courage to take this very obvious way of halting inflation even if such regimentation is contrary to our accepted standards of personal freedom. Did I say personal freedom? Today that has been drastically eroded and everyday another little dictator in the name of a director, commission, or what not is hatched. I said that a large majority of the public already favors price wage control and I might be misunderstood. 51% is not a large majority but when it is balanced against 20% with no opinion and only opposed it is a large majority.

Our present administration still hopefully persists on the course that flopped us into the mud. Does it make sense to add to the economic bottom while adding to the top too? Will further expendidtures for relief, welfare, social security, housing or even education, to bring up the income of the aged or incompetent, have any effect while daily the competence of the competent rises and puffs up inflation and makes any increase of buying power despite of dollar amount, a firce and delusion?

Union power, as anyone can observe is potent enough to keep the workmans wage and service costs up in the blue sky. But the minimum wage laws hamper and chain the naturalinefficient, by closing many jobs, either by pricing then out of the field or because of the marginal condition of the worker, whe ther thru incompetence or under or over age. Millions of our young people exist in manufactured idleness because of wage and other restrictions, and millions of our doddering oldsters unable to compete any longer in the hot speed of the industrial world are living on entirely inadequate social security or fixed income, inadequate in an inflated economy that keeps even the efficient "jumping". Does it make sense to tax the top to help the bottom layers of society only to allow, that already inade-

A 1957 Ford station wagon driven by David A. Jackson, 18, of LaPush was westbound on the LaPush Road when the driver lost control after rounding a curve approximately 1/2 mile from LaPush. The car went into a broadside for approximately 200 feet and over a 75' bank. The station wagon was totaled.

Injured in the accident were the driver, David A. Jackson, multiple abrasions of the leg, shoulder and back.

Norman Jones, 17, LaPush suffered scalp lacerations, concussion and abrasions of the left arm. He was transferred from Forks Hospital to the University Hospital in Seattle by Coast Guard heli-

Bernice Jackson, 19, LaPush was admitted at Forks Hospital with a fractured left wrist and alwasions of the forehead Marlene Ward, 13, LaPush, had both shoulders fractured and a laceration of the right foot. Robert Ward Jr., 17, of LaPush suffered lacerations of the right elbow, right forearm and shoulder.

Phylis Ward, 15, Terry Penn, 15, and Jerry Davis, 17, were not injured.

A 1969 Kenworth log truck suffered approximately $2,000 damage after overturning on the Ruby Beach corner on Highway 101 last Thursday. According to a State Patrol

Letters To Editor

For interest to the people of the Town of Forks I'm making the following statements. For what you may hear and read about me and the charges that have been brought on me is one thing, but for each and everyone's benefit, there is always the truth. I am denying these charges because none are the truth, not because I want to take a chance with the law's decision. In a situation as I am presently in, its not a pleasant one. Another thing about this case thats against me, is the fact I was a law enforcement officer at the time of my arrest. A law enforcement officer to begin with, has no friends, so you can see how I stand judged in the view of people. From what I can see and hear of comments being made about me at the present time, I stand condemned for everything. The outcome of this will no doubt lie in a decision of a jury, but there again, can a jury of people really in their own mind find the truth? Another thing that stands against me is the county prosecutor, well almost everyone knows that a prosecutor has many decisions to make before accepting a case of this nature, he has to have facts and evidence to make his case, well, maybe he feels he has really got this case sewed up, being I am a police officer, this would put a big red feather in his hat. So you can see my outlook on it, the towns against me because of all kinds of rumors, picture in your own mind, are they true? Sure its easy to say yes, but why do people have to be like animals? I myself have nothing to hide. What I've done for the Town of Forks I feel was always right. I've always gotten along with everybody, but it must have still not been good enough. Even though I've only been charged with the three offenses and not found guilty as yet, I am acting on my behalf only, and that is the fact, to make it official, I've resigned my position as night marshal. I was not asked to, but for the interest of all concerned, I find at this point its the only thing that can be done. If charges were all dropped or I was found not guilty, still there would always be doubt in everyones mind. So I have really seen for myself just how people in general can be. Another thing, a person who is talking about someone else such as me or whoever it may be, look them in the eye and put your self in my shoes or the persons that they are talking about, would you like it? Just think, maybe someday you will be talked about.

Does everyone really know

the basis of mv case or do they need to know. For one thing, I have always done my job, can anyone really say I didn't? It wasn't easy at times, but the job was done. I guess at this point, the people don't care rather I did or didn't, mostly because I am now accused of things that I've fought hard to stop in the Forks area.

Narcotics for the main factor, I hate this probably more so than anybody, I've fought hard and worked many hours to get it clear out of the area, but I was unsuccessful because higher-ups didn't feel the time was right. As far as I am concerned, the time is always right to get this narcotics stopped. With information that Phil Riebe and myself have compiled in the past four months, we could have had this ended or at least close to it, but it was mainly in the county and being a Town Police Dept., we were unable to make any moves. The general public will never know the real truth to all this, and probably will never make any efforts to find it. But there again, I still stand alone now. As far as the charge of contributing, I've always tried to stop this. But does a person have to stand guard over their own home and watch the icebox to prevent this from happening? I've arrested my own kids that lived in the same house as I for drinking and other offenses. I never treated them any different than anyone else would have been treated. And last, the charge of sodomy, I deny this charge also, but who's going to believe different? Its not true, and I can not figure why this of all charges had to be brought against me.

I've donated most of my time working with the younger people and less time for myself. But this will no doubt always be my way as I do think a great deal in working with the younger generation. Even though a few turned against me. Rather or not it is believed or not, the same two or three boys that have turned against me can speak pretty good of me, I would imagine, still yet. This was their only method of revenge as near as I can see, but still they are really still just kids.

So that's really all I have to comment on now, the only thing that I haven't undergone in the past week is being nailed to the cross, who knows maybe that's next. It is in the hands of the law. I hope everyone can see a few points about this matter, but who knows, to many this is probably unmeaningful. Judge yourself, before you judge someone else. It may frighten you.

Respectfully, Dennis Morgison

A Vision Come True

Statistics are not always dry nor are they always tricky. Sometimes they can be downright interesting, especially when they have to do with the performance of a new household appliance, a new auto-or a new airplane. An oven that bakes biscuits in seconds or an auto that can reach 80 miles-an-hour from a standing start in the blink of an eye have nothing on the new Boeing 747 Jet.

Most questions asked about the new plane can be lumped into three general categories touching on safety, comfort and cost. The evidence is overwhelming that some new records will be set in personal security aloft and that passenger comfort will be unprecedented. A passenger in the 747 will in effect be in one of five flying "living rooms" almost 20 feet in width. The ceiling is 8 feet, 6 inches. There are numerous galleys, wall-towall carpeting, extra-wide aisles, and overall will be an aura of personalized attention. As to costs, a top airline official has this to say, "... The American consumer deserves a few breaks in this world of high prices. An airplane seat.. is just about the only place which costs less today than it did 5 years ago--or 10 years ago, or 30 years ago. So if we can hold fares, while inflation is inflating everything else 5 to 10 per cent, we will be reducing fares rather substantial-

All in all, the second stage of the jet era promises to open new horizons of travel and business for countless millions of people all over the world. This is a fact that lends substance to the vision of dreamers who hope for a higher, worldwide civilization in the years to come.

A COMMUNITY CHALLENGE

What makes a slum? That first broken window? Or the door off its hinges? The gutter that was to be repaired tomorrow, or the other little fix-up, clean-up jobs that were never done?

When pride gives way to neglect—when homes become just houses, when people become careless and let litter accumulate, the seeds of slums are being sown. The dividing line between a thriving community and a deteriorating one is a matter of pride.

American industry for years has encouraged community improvement through its "Keep America Beautiful" campaigns. The Federal government has also initiated several programs to encourage this objective.

Slum development is a local problem. It is up to each one of us to have sufficient pride in our neighborhood to keep up each piece of property, and encourage the refurbishing of those areas suffering from man-made neglect.

How do we eliminate slums? The first answer is to overcome the indifference of the people.

Sunday Morning:

Setting here watching the Apollo 11 progress on T.V. and trying to get up enough energy to go out and get a chunk of fried chicken to munch on. Mother and I were up town pretty late last nite and aren't too overly supplied with vim and vigor this morning. Fact is, she's still snoozing and I wish I was too, but must get on the ball as I bowl at Sequim today in the Summer Singles. Others who qualified were Vern Rondeau, Hank Bigelow, Chuck Laswell, and Ken Keeney.

Hope after today I can report that all of us qualified for the finals.

Talking to Claude Clark last nite and he said by golly he's going to hit the magic 700 series this coming season. He's just liable to do it too, as he's one of a few here capable of it. Last week's Monday Nite Jr. Sr. League was led by Willis Bryan who tossed a 213-534. Lucky Leta Rondeau paced the women with a 173-480 and Terrie Genson and Theresa Decker led the Jr. girls with 113 and 295 respectively. Terry Hutton threw a 183-451 to top the Jr. boys. Tuesday Morning Doubles ended in a tie between the teams of Margaret Windle, Judy Klahn and Suzi and Karen

Harris. These two teams will bowl off for the champion-

And with one week to go, Rex and Billie Crist lead the Ma and Pa League by two points. Billie had Hi 10 for the gals with 219 while Ma Jarvis had a 198 and a high 40 of 695.

Darrel Thomas set a sizzling pace for the men as he ripped out a hi game of 266 and a high 4-game series of 867. And of course he had to be bowling against Mother and I.

Willis Bryan had a 237-808.

Mother and I cleaned up at Sat. Nite Monte Carlo. Won a couple of Sully's chicken dinners, (and they're delicious) plus a gob of cash. Each of us had a shot at the big Jackpot ($1.00) but missed. Duke won nine free games and some paint plus our little sidepot. Thanks again, Jean, for leaving me the money shots.

Kathy Decker, Dot McCoy, and Billie Bryan made up the rest of the bunch bowling last nite.

Next stop for the Summer Singles is at Bainbridge August 2-3.

Monday nite was the last nite for the Jr. and Sr.

For the Juniors Teresa Decker had a 133-366. Jim Rondeau a 194 game. Terry Hutton was high with a 233-556 series.

For the seniors, Betty Blattner had high game of 178 and Leta Rondeau high series with a 476. Bob Aulds bowled a 200 game. Ernie Wittenborn was high with a 223 and 533.

The Rondeaus and the Henrys and Thomas are tied for first place.

GOD IS CONTEMPORARY By Rev. Art. Morlin

Jesus Christ is alive, relative, and absolute in this generation. God is in this now generation. The Bible says in the book of Hebrews, chapter 13, verse 8, that "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever". This means that what Christ was 2000 years ago, He is today and will be the same in the future. He never changes in His attitude towards mankind. The Bible describes what Jesus did when He walked on the earth: He brought peace to man's soul; He healed sick and broken bodies; He gave direction and help to frustrated individuals; He comforted broken hearts; He calmed the angry sea; He demonstrated love and compassion. These things and many more were done by Jesus. He accomplished His mission on earth and returned to heaven and today is sitting at the right hand of the Father. He did not remain in the tomb. He rose from the dead! He lives today! His love, ministry, compassion, and outreach to man is the same today as it was when he walked the earth. Any person can get their need met if they will sincerely approach God personally with faith. God is alive today! You can prove it, for He said in the Bible, "Ask and you shall receive, seek and ye shall find....".

Many try to relegate God's mercy, love and abilities to the past. Moses had this problem when God called him to deliver Israel from the captivity of Egypt. He said to God when I tell them the God of your fathers has sent me, they will not understand. God said, tell them that "I AM" has sent you. In other words God was saying that he is contemporary to every generation. Not just a God of the past, but a God of the TODAY! God will do for you what he has done for past generations.

Others place God out in the future. Lazarus had died. Mary was heart-broken that Jesus had not arrived soon enough to heal him, Jesus said. "Your brother shall rise again". Mary said I know he will in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life".... You see she tried to put things off to some furure date but Jesus was interested about the today. Jesus raised Lazarus from the dead and turned sadness and gloom into joy and delight. Many people miss God altogether because they put Him off in the future. What He was yesterday, He is TODAY, and will be tomorrow. What He was yesterday or what He will be tomorrow is not our concern now. What is important is what is he to you FODAY! He wants to be your saviour, healer, combut why?

Actually, it's relatively simple to comfort a small child whose wishes have been thwarted. A toy, a cookie, sometimes a loving hug will turn the trick.

But how about grown-up frustrations? When sick with disappointment, heartbroken or dejected by a bad turn of events, where can an adult turn for consolation and support?

God's Church is the mainstay to every situation. Radiating God's goodness, it offers reassurance and relief to the baffled and the hopeless. Men turning toward its promise find new confidence and faith and hope recovered.

RETURN TO THE HOME OF THE GODS-Walk with me through the meadows which exist here. The sound of silence echoes from the mountain. Mt. Olympus, "The home of the Gods". It is here that beauty has been preserved for those wishing to observe this work of the Master's hand. It is here that water runs clear. It is here that the air which surrounds us is sweet and clean. The lilies bloom here, though their time of existence is shortened by Mother Nature as the snows come early and stay long. Rest here and observe the beauty of the mountain. Somewhere men climb it's peaks. Somewhere they cross it's glaciers. A marmot whistles from the rocks which border our meadow of green. The headwaters of the Hon lay across the canyon. Elk roam the meadows and browse in the forests which lay below. Well, we must move on now. Let us return in early fall when our sound of silence is broken by the challenging whistle of the Olympic elk as they leave the high country and winter engulfs our Mountain. The home of the Gods.
