

Consolidation Discussed

The question of consolidation was the main item on the agenda when the Cape Flattery School Board met, February 9. A large group of people were present to discuss the problem. It was decided after an hour of discussion to table the matter until all the Board members were present.

Glen Willison, superintendent of schools reported that he has had no success in finding a new principal. One application will be tried on a substitute basis.

The rehiring of Mr. and Mrs. Gohsen was approved.

It was announced that the September and October lunch fees owed by the Makah Tribal

Couples Dinner This Saturday

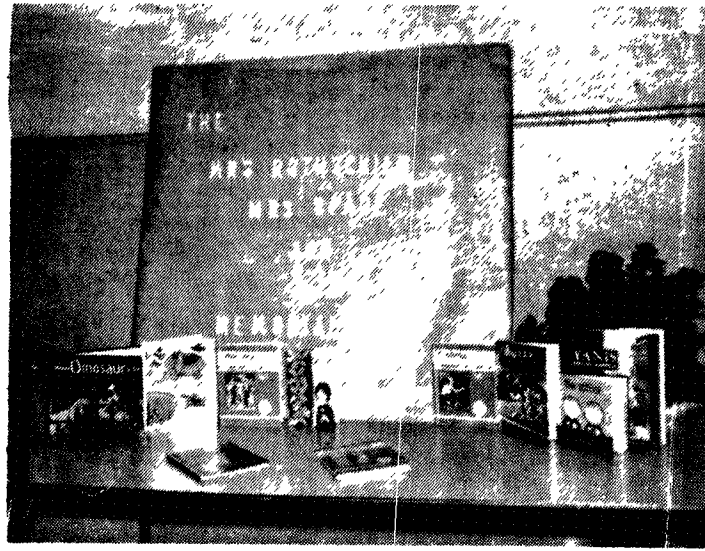

The Christian Women's Luncheon Club will hold a Couples Dinner Saturday, February 28, at the Sportsmen's Club. For further information call Mrs. Don Eckhoff at 374-6788.

Council have been paid.

Clallam Bay has forfeited 5 football games because they played 2 ineligible players. Several pre-season basketball games will have to be forfeited. The coaches and principal thought that the players were eligible after the first five weeks of school.

The next meeting will be March 9th at 7:30 p.m. in the Neah Bay High School Library.

NPEA Donates Books

The Northwest Peninsula Education Association donated the following books in memory of Mrs. Harriet Spade: "Sparky's Firemen," "The School" and "How Big Am I?" The books donated in memory of Mrs. Margery Rothchild were: "SuAn," "Yanis, Boy of Greece" and "What Dinosaur Am I?"

The books, "Fishing For Boys," "Hunting For Boys," "Track and Field for Boys," and "Duzzy Plays Midget Football," were given in memory of Joe Allen by the Lawrence Soderlund family to the Forks Elementary School.

The elementary school library has also received about 75 books donated by families in the area from their bookshelves.

Errors Causing Tax Refund Delay

Washington, D.C.--Early Federal income tax returns indicate that many taxpayers are making errors in claiming adjustments to their income and that these errors may delay their refunds, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

The term "adjustments" as used on the tax form, refers only to sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expenses, and payments to self-employment retirement plans. The total of these

Easter Seals "Coffee Day"

The Easter Seal Society's annual "Coffee Day" fund-raising campaign--an event which gives coffee drinkers a chance to consume their favorite cup and help a crippled child--will be kicked-off in restaurants throughout the state in mid-February.

"Coffee Day" buttons go on sale in participating restaurants for a $1 contribution to the Easter Seal Society in the campaign, co-sponsored by the Society and the Restaurant Association of the State of Washington.

Those wearing buttons are entitled to drink free coffee all day long on "Coffee Day" at any participating restaurant.

All proceeds are used by the Easter Seal Society to send handicapped youngsters to camp, to provide for loans and gifts of crutches and wheelchairs and to carry on programs of research, rehabilitation and therapy.

William E. Unti, executive director of the Society, said restaurants interested in joining the "Coffee Day Crusade" may contact the Easter Seal Society, 530 Broad St., Seattle, for further information.

"Coffee Day" is one of a number of special events during the 1970 Easter Seal campaign which opens Feb. 23 and continues through March 29. The Easter Seal Society this year is observing its 50th anniversary as a voluntary health organization serving handicapped children and adults.

A Death Trap for Your Child?

Open cess pool at Harvey Hoffman residence 1st Ave & Division Street.

At the Forks Town Council meeting February 9, a complaint was heard concerning the open cess pool at the Harvey Hoffman residence.

A representative from the Clallam County Health Department was present. He stated at that time he had contacted the owner of the property and the cess pool would be filled and covered.

It has been two weeks since the question arose. Frank Lyda from the City water department covered the pool with boards, they have since been broken and the pool is uncovered.

This is not only a health hazard but a safety hazard as well.

How many children walk that alley on their way home from school?

Will that open cess pool become a death trap for your child?

COUNCIL DISCUSSES LOCAL SALES TAX

The Forks Town Council met Monday, 8 p.m., at the Town Hall.

The council discussed the House passage of the local sales tax, House Bill #21, at length. The bill provides the towns the power to levy a one-half of one percent addition to the sales tax. It was decided to take no action on the bill at this time although the plans are for studying it further. The funds the Town received under the State Aid to Cities plan were not approved in the legislature. This leaves the city at a loss of about three thousand dollars a year.

The council also discussed the possibility of initiating an ordinance prohibiting the possession of marijuana under 40 grams. The possession of over 40 grams constitutes a felony. The initiating of the ordinance prohibiting the possession of marijuana within the city limits would provide for the cases being tried locally, therefore the revenue collected would be used locally. As the law now stands, the county prosecutor's office handles the cases, and collects the revenue. Marshal Ken Woods said that with the influx of people expected this summer the ordinance would be a necessity. As it now stands the Forks marshal has to go to Port Angeles to appear in court, this results in a loss of police protection as well as expense to the town. Attorney for the Town, Frank Platt, didn't agree completely with the Marshal on this matter but it will be discussed further. The Association of Washington Cities will be contacted to see what type of ordinances they have pertaining to marijuana possession. The main point in question seemed to be the fact that we only have a Justice Court in Forks.

Syd Tozier, Tozier's Insurance Company of Port Angeles, presented a hospitalization insurance plan to the council. The council had discussed the plan presented by Etna Insurance Company at a previous meeting. The council agreed that the plan presented by Tozier carried better coverage in the major medical classification than the Etna policy, but will wait until they hear from other insurance companies before making a decision.

The council heard from Joe Blomgren concerning the drainage ditch on East Division Street that is overgrown with berry bushes and brush. The council will contact the street department about clearing the ditch.

PTA Studies School Financing

Ron Thompson, PTA president and John Hitchcock, superintendent of schools, are conducting a survey on school financing. They will make a report in the near future as to where the school's dollars come from. This was one of the issues discussed when the Parent-Teacher Association of the Quillayute Valley Schools met February 18.

The plans for the park summer recreation program were discussed. Purchasing fencing for the tennis courts is under consideration. The school has two backboards which are not in use and if they are not needed at the school it might be possible to get them for the park. The program needs equipment as well as volunteers for the summer recreation activities planned.

The summer library program is nearing completion. Volunteers have been found and the story times are being set.

The possibility of using the arena for the youth car clubs was discussed. The ruling on this is not clear but it will be discussed to determine if this would be possible.

The Ted Hudson Memorial Fund has received $138.80 to be used to purchase a audiometer for the school, the PTA has donated the rest of the purchase price and the audiometer has been purchased.

The PTA will have a swim program this year, they are looking into using a local pool. John Leppell will submit a report at the next meeting.

The Vocational Education program was also discussed. Bill Thompson, Vo-Ag teacher, stated that less than 25% of high school students in our area go on to college, and the remaining 75% are not getting the vocational help they need. Several people in the area are working with the school on trying to improve this program.

The Golden Acorn Award, a lifetime membership in PTA, was awarded to Mrs. A. E. Burdick by last year's recipient, Mrs. William Rich.

The bids for the addition to the Town Hall are still being accepted. Bidding closes March 9th.

Sheriff Bishop Guest of Search and Rescue

The Forks Community Search and Rescue unit met February 18 at the VFW Hall.

Guests for the meeting were Sheriff Harley Bishop and Game Protector, Jim Aggergaard.

Sheriff Bishop was asked to come to the meeting and explain the ruling that all search and rescue operations are to be under the authority of the Sheriff's Department. Bishop stated that his department is to be contacted by the co-ordinator of the Search and Rescue and the search operation will be assigned a civil defense number. The search is then under the authority of the local unit of the Search and Rescue. If a helicopter is needed or if additional manpower is needed the sheriff's department could obtain the needed men and equipment. The Department could provide little financial help however, because the funds allocated to Search and Rescue were cut from $500 to $250.

The group thanked Sheriff Bishop for attending and answering their questions. The other guest for the evening was Jim Aggergaard, State Game Department. Aggergaard was asked by the group members "why the game department ignores people who have been lost either on hunting or fishing expeditions, and if the game department can not go on search and rescue operation why they don't at least provide equipment that is needed by the Unit?" The Search and Rescue has no funds of their own and must take money out of their own pocket for necessary items, such as batteries, radios, fuel, etc. With the revenue from licenses sold in this area the Search Unit felt that the Game Department should provide help to the Unit of some kind.

Aggergaard stated, that because of manpower involved the Game Department in this area could not take an active part in the search operations. He also stated that he could not give the group any answers to their questions, all he could do would be to inform his superiors of the questions and ask them to contact the Unit. Aggergaard said, "Any equipment I have I would be glad to provide to the Search and Rescue Unit for their use. I have lights for night searches and a boat when it is not being used would be available."

It was the general consensus of opinion of the large group attending the meeting that the Game Department should provide help of some kind. The regular business meeting followed the discussions.

SIGNS OF SPRING--Buds explode on willow branches, vegetation pushes through the molded soil and pollen travels with the mid day wind as spring nears. Pictured above, a daffodil bursts into full bloom as the bud of another awaits the heat of the day, so that it too may display its natural beauty providing us with these signs of spring.

Editorial . . .

By Nedra Reed

The question of whether or not to levy a local sales tax will be very much in evidence in the next few weeks. House Bill No. 21 which was passed by the Legislature grants county and local government the power to levy the tax, which is one-half of one percent. This would change the local sales tax from 4.5 to 5 percent.

At the same time this bill was passed the State Aid to Cities program was turned down. Forks received approximately $3,000 from this program. The addition to the sales tax would make up this deficit.

Aside from the revenue gained the tax measure would be, in the opinion of some, the most fair. It would tax the consumer, yes, but the consumer comes to Forks from surrounding areas, uses the facilities of the town, therefore the tax burden would be placed directly upon the recipient of the services rendered by the Town.

The State would collect this tax at a charge to the town at 2 percent. The county would receive 15 percent of the tax monies, because the main center of revenue would be the town. This would leave 83 percent for local government.

The county has the right to levy this tax also, this would take the measure out of the hands of local government and make the tax county wide. If the county decides against this measure it is conceivable we could be paying say, 5 percent in Forks and 4.5 outside the city limits.

It seems to be only a matter of time before the tax is levied in some areas.

What will happen in Clallam County and Forks remains to be seen.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor and Citizens of the Forks area,

I am presently in the Mediterranean on the guided missile cruiser U.S.S. Columbus; so I am much removed from my home community of Forks. I receive my Forks Forums about two-three weeks after they are printed. I read the January 22nd edition with much interest; and then a week later received the January 29th issue, the letters to the editor, to say the least, are extremely interesting in two respects. (1) I have never seen so many in one edition of the Forum. (2) All of them agree that the job done by the Forum is outstanding. KVAC was also cited as doing a superb job in conjunction with the Forum.

I myself in the three times that I have been home in the last three years have been very impressed by the growth of Forks. Perhaps the most impressive thing was the addition of KVAC to the community. In December of 1967 I was home for the holidays and found it awfully nice to be able to turn on the radio during the daytime and tune in a station that was tuned to the local need and scene.

Since then the Forum and KVAC have become one corporation. The Forum has increased in size and interest to the local scene and situation. In growing it had to get additional advertisement. In the January 29th edition I counted 18 out of town advertisements. The Forum was predominately from Port Angeles our "bigger" neighbor city. Certain local merchants seem to think these advertisements in company with voice advertisement on KVAC are bad for their business.

I also noticed that the largest local merchant did not have his normal "large" full page ad in the 29th edition. Evidently he is sending these "supposed savings" advertisements by mail, which undoubtedly contributes to the "junk" mail everyone receives.

I don't believe the merchants of Forks have any complaints on the action of the Forum or KVAC. As the consumers of Forks are rather forced to go to them if they want any goods or services quickly. Port Angeles is 60 long miles away. Which is a fair drive in anyone's book over a section of road, which thanks to the Olympic National Park and Lake Crescent, is certainly not the safest 60 miles. So, to offset this considerable distance two things are done. (1) The Forks merchant raises prices. (2) The Port Angeles merchants use the local mass media to inform the people of the savings offered 60 miles away.

So, what can the Forum and KVAC do but accept the additional business from Port Angeles, both as a service to the community and the profit incurred.

I would like to say "bravo" for the job done by the Forum and KVAC. And perhaps by the time I am no longer in the service of the U.S. Navy the prices of Forks will be more competitive with Port Angeles.

Until then, "Let the buyer beware."

Sincerely,
T. L. Diimmel ETR 3

Chorus Travels To Bainbridge

By Steve Lingvall

Last Saturday, February 14, the Forks High School chorus travelled to Bainbridge to attend a "mass concert". Several schools also came to Bainbridge. Port Townsend, Sequim, and Port Angeles were among those schools that sent students to participate.

Mr. Robert Jones accompanied his class to Bainbridge. Although this trip wasn't required, it could have some effect on their grades. A reasonable excuse had to be provided for not attending.

Evidently, the entire trip was worthwhile, and the concert proved to be a complete success. Those students who attended the concert returned thoroughly enthralled. It is the hope that such activities will bring all the schools closer together.

The Quiet War

Few topics have been the subject of more debate, discussion and disagreement in the United States than the war in Vietnam and no one denies that it has resulted in a tragic loss of life. The same people who respond with sorrow and horror to this catastrophe, however, seem to yawn and take a "so what else is new" attitude toward an even greater bloodbath taking place at home.

Compared to Vietnam, few shots were fired in anger in the U.S. last year, but according to estimates of the Insurance Information Institute, 56,300 people died on the nation's highways in 1969. That's 16,300 more than the estimated 40,000 Americans who have died in Vietnam since the onset of the war nine years ago.

And one thing is for certain. When you consider not only the lives lost but the estimated 4.6 million injuries that occurred last year and an economic loss that defies computation--there's no question about who is losing the war.

Precinct Caucus to Begin

Chairmen of the State Republican and Democratic parties today urged all Washington citizens to participate in the precinct caucus of their party on Tuesday, March 3.

C. Montgomery Johnson, Republican state chairman, and Neale V. Chaney, Democratic state chairman, jointly announced the precinct meeting system as the first step in selecting state and national convention delegates. Precinct meeting places will be announced by county party chairmen.

In their announcement, the political party leaders said:

"Working together, the Republican and Democratic parties have established what we believe will be a model program for all states, in having set dates for pre-convention organizational and policy meetings."

"The caucus in each precinct will elect delegates to the party county convention, which will be held not less than a month later, and at least 30 days prior to the state convention."

"Neighbors getting together in the precinct caucus will be discussing political issues and policies which will become part of the county party platform, which in itself will be the basis for the state and national platforms."

The party state chairmen emphasized that the precinct meetings will be formally reported to county party officials, as to delegates elected and platform ideas discussed. All persons 18 years of age and older are eligible to participate.

They said:

"We believe that no other state will have as good a system of 'grass roots' meetings which will determine the course of the two parties."

"Party business will be conducted in the open, with everyone 18 years and older eligible to participate. It is our hope that this will bring new ideas and new people into each party."

The state chairmen urged every citizen to become a part of his party's decision-making process by attending caucus on March 3.

S.S. Annual Report Due

Social Security beneficiaries are reminded that annual reports of earnings for 1969 must be filed with the Social Security Administration no later than April 15, 1970.

If you received one or more social security checks in 1969 and earned gross wages or a net profit from a business of more than $1,680 during the year you must file the report with the Social Security Administration no later than April 15th. Failure to file the report timely may result in a penalty equal to one month's social security benefits.

Only earnings from work--wages or business profits--need be reported. Other income, such as pensions, dividends, or interest, etc., is not considered earnings for social security purposes.

Persons in the Forks area who need assistance may contact their social security representative in the Forks Town Hall, during the hours of 10:00 a.m. to 12 noon February 27th and March 27th.

Process Waste For New Use

"America's waste and litter eventually must be collected and processed as a resource rather than rubbish," says Robert McLellan, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Commerce.

"Almost half the iron and steel used in the United States comes from scrap," Mr. McLellan told the National Association of Secondary Material Industries. Copper consumers rely on secondary sources for 40 per cent of their needs. Lead is derived more than half from scrap lead.

"... If we drop discussion of the word 'disposal' and think in terms of 'reclamation', that which is repugnant becomes a resource, and instead of looking for ways and places to hide it, we look for ways to process and use it," he said.

EAGER BEAVERS MEET

The Eager Beavers 4-H Club met February 18. Members present were Jerry Clausen, Bill Crippen, Mike Crippen, Ricky Fuhrman, Tom Lingvall, Buddy Sanford, Rodney Swerin, and Alan White.

The group discussed demonstrations to be held March 4th.

STATE B TOURNAMENT SET

There's been only one change made in the distribution of district berths for the State B High School Basketball Tournament this year.

The Northwest District will be sending two teams instead of one, while the Southeast District will be cut from three teams to two for the 28th annual classic scheduled in Spokane's Coliseum March 4-7.

It will mark the first time since 1956 that the Northwest will have more than one team. Twin City and LaConner qualified that season--just two years before the Big Show for Little Schools moved from Tacoma to Spokane.

So, there have never been two Northwest teams appear in Spokane.

The Southeast gets cut back just one year after it was elevated to three teams for the first time in the area's history. Defending champion St. John comes from the Southeast District, which also had the other finalist, Oakesdale, last year. The Whitman County entries traditionally have been among the best in the Bee competition.

Once again the Northeast District will have a contingent of four teams. It wasn't too long ago that the Northeast had never produced a champion. Then, Harrington won in 1965 and Reardan in 1966 and 1967. The Northeast also had the runner-up finishes in '68 (Sprague), '64 (Harrington) and '61 (Davenport).

Three teams will qualify from the North Central District and two each from the Southwest and South Central (Yakima Valley) as well as the Northwest and Southeast as previously mentioned. There will be one from the West Central District as has been the case for several years.

Entry allotments are decided on the basis of number of schools and enrollments in each area.

With District Tournament action underway this week, it appeared that many of last year's top squad might be returning.

St. John, which has had no easy task within the Whitman County League this year, faces long struggle to make return trip. It must first survive its own league playoffs (after tying Endcott for first place in the regular play) and then go against the best from the Blue Mountain League.

Competition has been so close in the Whitman loop this year that any of a number of teams could emerge as the pace-setters in tourney action. Oakesdale has an outside chance of surviving also.

Odessa, which finished third last year, seems like a good prospect for a return trip. It was the Tigers who stopped Reardan's long winning streak in the Bi-County League this year.

However, Odessa has plenty of tough work ahead of it in winning one of the four Northeast berths. Liberty and Reardan finished ahead of it and Wilbur shared the number three spot with Odessa in regular league competition. The Bi-County then must go against the much-improved Panorama League in the district playoffs.

Naselle, the fourth-place finisher last year, is among the leaders again this year in the Southwest District. Kittitas, number five a year ago, trailed Zillah in this year's Yakima B League race, but still might return. Zillah was ousted in two rounds last year, but looks like a solid contender this time.

Peshastin-Dryden, which took sixth place a year ago, looms as a North Central power again. Wilson Creek, number seven, won't be coming back after finishing well back in the Chelan-Douglas League race. LaConner, number eight, aims at one of the two Northwest berths. Little is known of the LaConner record except it was the team that handed Coupeville, the Northwest's leading team, its first loss of the year.

Others appearing at State last year were Lacrosse, Springdale, Leavenworth, Oakville, Reardan, Curlew and Clallam Bay. Reardan and Oakville look like the best bets for return trips. Oakville completed its regular season unbeaten. Whichever teams survive, will gather in Spokane to begin the State competition at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, March 4. Eight games will be played that day.

There will be eight more on March 5 with four teams being eliminated from further play and only four surviving in the championship bracket. Of course, single-game losers get a chance to place among the top eight.

On Friday, March 6, there will be six games and four more schools will absorb their second losses and be eliminated, while the title action will be then down to two. The windup comes March 7 with four games deciding places one through eight -- the big one going on at 9 p.m. that evening.

State's New Unemployment Compensation Law

The unemployment compensation bill passed by the Legislature this year incorporated several significant improvements in the benefit and financing aspects of the law, according to Joe Davis, president of the Washington State Labor Council.

The new law assures that benefits will increase with general level of wages in the future. The unemployed will be protected from the situation of the last few years in which benefits were largely eroded by inflation, according to Davis. "The benefits for the individual are set at 1/25th of his high-quarter wages, with a maximum benefit equal to 50% of the average weekly wage. This automatic growth in benefits may well prove to be the most significant aspect of the new law."

The new maximum weekly benefit will be $70 a week. Under the previous law, average benefits were about $34 a week. Department of Employment Security figures indicate average benefits will now amount to about $50 a week.

"One of the very real problems facing the labor movement in the past few years has been the fact that the erosion of the benefit schedule through inflation made it extremely difficult to enact other necessary and worthwhile changes in the law. While workers were penalized with such an inadequate benefit schedule, there was little room left to negotiate for such important matters as extended coverage to agricultural workers, employees of charitable organizations and government employees," Davis said that the Council staff would now go to work on substantive changes in the law and have them ready for introduction at the next session of the Legislature.

"We intend to talk about extending coverage; we want to examine the problem of dependents' benefits, and we intend to propose more adequate penalties for employers who violate the law," said Davis.

"The new law gives Washington the most stringent qualifying standards in the nation. The dollar amount, $1,050, is 30% higher than any other state," said Davis. The qualification amount of earnings is 15% of the average annual wage, and will increase in the future with the general level of wages. In addition to the earnings requirement, the worker must also have either worked sixteen weeks or 600 hours. "A few other states have a longer work requirement than the new Washington statute, but no state has a double qualification as difficult as Washington. Qualification for unemployment benefits should either be based upon dollar earnings or weeks of work," said Davis, "but surely not both. This amounts to unemployment compensation legislation designed to disqualify unemployed workers, not to assist them."

The disqualification sections of the unemployment compensation law for voluntarily quitting work and for misconduct discharges were almost doubled by the 1970 special session. The current law provides a denial of benefits for the week of the quit or misconduct discharge and five subsequent weeks. The new law increases that period to ten weeks--however, a worker may requalify with five weeks of reemployment.

"Under the terms of the law, the prior misconduct charge clause remains essentially unchanged, except that the disqualification period is doubled," said Davis. "No matter what the offense--whether it be embezzling the employer's funds or sweating at the foreman--the employee is considered guilty in the same degree. The same penalty applies in all cases. It must be obvious to all that the intent of the legislators who insisted upon this clause was to enact harsh restrictive and punitive law," Davis said.

The new law also enacts extended benefits on a State level for the first time. When the insured unemployment rate is 20% higher than the average rate for the two previous years, workers may draw benefits for an additional thirteen weeks--with a maximum draw of 39 weeks. "This, essentially, limits extended benefits to only nine weeks," said Davis. "This clause is intended for those workers who have exhausted their regular benefits; and regular benefits are payable for 30 weeks. This improvement is not nearly what it should be, but a significant and important door has been opened. We will be suggesting further improvements in this section next year."

The new law also provides for automatic adjustment in the taxable wage base. Beginning in 1971, employers will be subject to the payroll tax on the first $4,200 of each employee's wages--a $1,200 increase over the present tax base of $3,000, set in 1939. Depending upon the fund level, the tax base will increase in subsequent years and it is pegged at an amount not to exceed 75% of the average annual wage.

"Again, an important principle has been established," Davis said. "For many years we have pointed to the hidden dividend that employers receive, because less than half of total wages are subject to unemployment compensation tax. This change will go only part of the way toward ending this 'hidden dividend,' but it is our hope that this section of the law can be substantially improved in subsequent years."

The new unemployment compensation law will pour an additional $23 million a year into the State's spending stream. It will increase employer costs by approximately 1.4 cents per man-hour worked; an increase of about .3 of one per cent of payroll costs.

"When the additional cost to the employer is compared to benefits to the unemployed worker and the economy," said Davis, "it becomes obvious that the end of the long impasse in the unemployment compensation field will prove to be of great benefit to the State."

The increased benefit schedule under the law will go into effect on April 5. "Changing the effective date from July to April, 1970, was accomplished because of the insistence of the Senate Democratic Caucus that the unemployed worker has waited far too long for this increase in benefits," Davis said. "The three-month advance in the effective date of the act will pour an additional $5 to $7 million in benefits into the State economy at a time when widespread unemployment threatens."

Davis also announced that plans are being made for the State Labor Council to conduct a series of workshops to explain the changes in the unemployment compensation law and how the new law will affect Washington workers.

BY MRS. J. E. MERRITT

Mrs. John Capaan returned home last Thursday after a three months' stay with her sister, Mrs. Velma Riley in Carson City, Nevada. Mrs. Riley accompanied her sister, and will remain until Mrs. Capaan can complete arrangements for the disposal of her household belongings. She intends to make her future home in Carson City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Nordman went to Winslow, last Wednesday, to meet their daughter, Mrs. Henry Werner and baby son, Aaron. Mr. Werner came Saturday, and he and his family returned to their home in Seattle, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Eaton returned home Sunday evening from a four day visit in Seattle. While there they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eaton, and Mr. Eaton underwent a medical check-up.

Mr. and Mrs. James Forsman of Tokorua, North Island, New Zealand, spent Thursday night at the Forks Motel. On Friday Mr. Forsman, a logging operator in New Zealand, went out with Messrs. Robert Cunningham, Bill Pirnke, and Jim Scarlett to observe ITT Rayonier methods of logging operation.

In the meantime Mrs. Forsman and Mrs. Scarlett were luncheon guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Maris in Forks.

Judge and Mrs. Melvin Love and son Clare with his daughter, Janell, of Bellevue, visited over the weekend with Mrs. Love's niece, Mrs. Richard Loushin and her family, at Smithville. They returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Campbell and family arrived Sunday to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Engeseth, and returned on Monday to their home in Tacoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Matthews, long time friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dawkins, came out from Port Angeles Sunday to visit the Dawkins family. only to discover them absent from home, having taken advantage of the beautiful day to go for a ride to Clallam Bay and Ozette.

Friends in the South West End learned of the death on Sunday of Mrs. Ira (Irene) Pease in the hospital at Ellensburg. Mrs. Pease, with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kemp, and brother, Clarence Kemp, moved to Sappho from Alger, Skagit County, in the early 1930's, and lived there for several years. Mrs. Pease was a charter member of the now defunct Tyee Tillicums, which was organized in November, 1937, and served as it's president at least once. It was under her aegis that the West End Community Club was organized in 1947 or '48.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Beebe had as weekend guests his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Beebe of Everson, Whatcom County, and Mr. and Mrs. George Cossor of Everett. Present it dinner, Saturday evening were the Norman Beebes, Mr. and Mrs. Cossor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heisterman, Donita and Bradley Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Lyn Hafner, Mrs. Kate Beebe and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Beebe. The visitors left on Sunday.

Mrs. Cossor (nee Doris Clift) was Mrs. Heisterman's (nee Maxine Witherow's) first grade teacher at Curlew, Ferry County, and two years later taught the third grade in the East Wenatchee school. Irwin Lobdell the son of Mrs. John Merritt was one of her pupils.

Mrs. Merritt had never met Mrs. Cossor, but on Saturday was calling on Mrs. Kate Beebe and was told that Mr. and Mrs. Cossor were visiting at the Herb Beebes' so she went over and introduced herself as Irvin Lobdell's mother.

WEST END PIONEER CLUB WILL MEET FEBRUARY 27
West End Pioneer Club will meet February 27, at 8 p. m. in the Sportsman's clubhouse. Election of officers will be on the program. Potluck supper will follow. Visitors are welcome.

Bogachiel GC Holds Silver Tea

A Silver Tea was the theme for the Feb. 19th meeting of the Bogachiel Garden Club held at the home of Mrs. Harley Witherow, with Mrs. Carl Lamb and Mrs. Gordon Otos as assisting hostesses. The attractive house decorations of Forsythia, Quince and Cherry Blossoms were brought by Mrs. Ron Shearer and Mrs. Henry Halverson.

Mr. W. E. Whitney, who owns Whitney Nurseries, Brinnon, Wash., accompanied by Mrs. Whitney, presented a very interesting program, showing colored slides and giving detailed information on their extensive Rhododendron culture. The Whitney Gardens are indeed situated on a beautiful location, near the mouth of the Dosewallips River, with Mount Constance as a background. Visitors as well as prospective customers are always welcome.

Whitney's have 900 named varieties of Rhododendrons, from the dwarf variety to those which grow at least 30 feet tall. About May 1st, there are at least 500 varieties in bloom. Some of the plants are from very hardy stock and will easily withstand snow and freezing weather. Hemlock sawdust or needles is about one of the best mulches for Rhododendrons, so we are fortunate in our area to have an abundance of this material. Any plant of the Lily family is an excellent accompaniment for Rhododendron plants.

Membership roll call for the Garden Club was "Plants to use for background." After a business meeting and also reports from committees, the lengthy meeting was adjourned.

RAINBOW GIRLS

Grand Deputy of Washington and Idaho, International Order Rainbow Girls, Mrs. Nelma Rhyme was present and introduced at the February 23 meeting. It was announced that Julie Baker has been selected to be a member of the Grand Choir. She will sing at Grand Assembly this year in Tacoma.

The Rainbow-Mason dinner will be held Sunday, March 1 at 2 p. m.

Rainbow girls don't forget to ask your gentleman.

The girls were asked to find rummage for the Rainbow Girls and Eastern Star rummage sale to be held March 20 and 21 from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., at the V. F. W. Hall.

It was decided that the next meeting which will be March 9, will be little girls night. All the girls are asked to come to the meeting dressed like little girls.

The Masons and Eastern Stars are invited to attend.

After the meeting the girls stayed to be taught some of the Rainbow songs by Virjeanne James, Julie Baker and Vickie Duncan.

Future Geniuses At Work

By Steve Lingvall

Mr. Lyle Davis' fifth period chemistry class is brewing strange and exotic potions for experimentation. At present, the students are engaged in examining the physical and chemical properties of oxygen. Each pair of students is assigned to a special area, where they work together on their assignments. Everyone must wear a protective apron and must have full knowledge of each part of their equipment.

Those students who are presently enrolled in this class are Bruce Dunlap, Don Hutt, Dick Jensen, Steve Lingvall, Joyce Maris, Rene Neilson, Susan Shearer, and Ray Silcox. Lab assistants, Rich Liles and Glen MacDonald, are very helpful in aiding the students in their lab work. Later on in the year, Mr. Davis and his class will be conducting experiments with water. Different types of water from various rivers and creeks around the Forks area were brought in by the students. They will examine each water sample to test its content of pollution.

Another experiment is being conducted by Mr. Davis. He is going to examine some crude oil brought to him by two students. Ray Silcox and John Schosfack visited Oil City and brought samples back to him. More lab work will be done in the future.

Grange News

Forks Prairie Grange met Thursday evening in the Sportsmen's Clubhouse, with Frank Buonpane, master, presiding.

Legislative Chairman Arthur Munson gave an interesting report on the proceedings of the special session of the State Legislature in Olympia.

In the absence of Robert Turtle, agriculture chairman, Mr. Munson spoke on the price of meat (beef cattle) saying it was better than had been paid to the farmers in several years.

Esther Floe gave a report on the last Community Council meeting. Ethel Whitehead spoke on the necessity of practice for degree work and it was voted to have a practice session for the first and second degrees at the next meeting, February 26.

Names were drawn for the supper committee for the march 12th meeting.

At the close of the meeting Kenneth Wood, Forks Town Marshal gave an interesting and informative talk on the interaction of the law enforcement agencies---marshal, night marshal, deputy sheriff, state patrol and game and fish protector---in Forks. Night Marshal Richard Sandmire accompanied Marshal Wood to the meeting and was a guest at the potluck supper which followed.

Congregational Church News

The name of Mrs. Don Eckhoff was unintentionally omitted from the list of workers at the Valentine Luncheon. Mrs. Eckhoff and Mrs. Bert Maris together made the posters and Mrs. Eckhoff was also one of the kitchen helpers.

Fifteen young people attended the Youth Fellowship that met at the Parsonage with Father Danemiller on Feb. 15. The group met on Feb. 22 at the Wilmer Ulin home and plans are being made for them to participate at Youth Sunday sometime after Easter.

The circle meetings will be held on Thurs., Feb. 26. Circle One will meet at the home of Mrs. Elmer Fraker at 12:30 p. m. and Circle Two will meet at 8 p. m. at the Henry Halverson home.

Orientation sessions for those considering Church members will be held at the parsonage March 8th and Mar. 15 at 7:30 p. m.

The sermon at morning worship next Sun., March 1, will be "Sword of Light."

RAINBOW -MASON DINNER

The Rainbow Girls are planning a Rainbow-Mason dinner to be held March 1, 2 p. m., at the IOOF Hall. This is an annual affair and all Masons are invited.

Meditation

By Pastor William E. Cross

Several years ago a young man said to me, "I am an atheist. I don't believe in God; I don't believe in Christ; I don't see any reason for the Church. When you are dead, you're dead! Period!!" In other words he was saying, the "play" is over; the dialogue ended; "ring down the curtain!!!" How tragically wrong the young man was.

There is a personal, living Sovereign God. This one true God is the Creator of "all things", including man. God did not just create man so that man could, for God's pleasure, conduct a three-act play on this earth and then 'drop the curtain'. Not at all!!! God has a plan and purpose in creation and He has a plan and purpose for every man. To know the reason for our existence God very carefully prepared for us a "Book of Instruction": the one Book that reveals God to man and makes known God's will for man. God's will and desire for man is spelled out in this Guide Book, the Bible. However God gave to His creature the power to choose. Man can accept or reject; believe or deny. But, his choice will in no way change the truth of God's Word or the direction of His purpose.

Generations of men who have denied the Bible as God's totally inspired revelation of Himself and His will for men, have died, but the Bible, unchanged and unchangeable, is still with us! "Let God be true but every man a liar". So that man could have understanding of God's Word and God's way the Holy Spirit was given to instruct, teach and guide. Any man who will come to the Bible with an honest heart will come to "know Him whom to know a right is life eternal"....

Yes, there is life after death, for God made His creature to be a "living soul". "Ring down the curtain"? Literally this is what death does. It drops the curtain on this physical existence only to have it raised on a life that is eternal. However there are now two stages on which the action takes place; one is in Heaven, the other in Hell. If you are not now doing so why not seek out a Bible-believing, Bible-teaching Church and learn of the One who said, "I am the way, the truth and the life. No man cometh unto the Father but by Me." Again He said, "I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: And whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die." "Because I live, ye shall live also."

RING DOWN THE CURTAIN

When we leave the concert hall, the music is gone. When we leave the theatre, the play is over. Not so with life! It continues on and on.

Life is not just a play. In the play an actor has no choice. But in real life you, the actor, have many choices, and how you play the part is up to you.

But still you need direction, coaching, encouragement. All these you can find in your church, for the Supreme Author of all life can give you inspiration and faith. In church, in the silence of your heart, you will hear His voice and understand.

Cadette Troop 1098 Had Busy Year

The Cadette Troop 1098 had a very busy year. Officers for the year were Corlie Johnson, patrol leader, Lori Kelso, assistant patrol leader, Cindy Justus, treasurer, Christi Olson, scribe, Char Bolin, reporter, Leslie Hatton, librarian, Germaine West, troop manager. Leaders are: Mrs. Phillip Justus, and Mrs. James Bolin.

The first trip the troop took was to the Sol Duc Hot Springs. They met the BSA Troop 475, who had just completed a 50 mile hike over the Olympics.

The second trip was to Seattle for the National GS Convention. Speakers for the event were Mrs. Price, Art Linkletter, and Miss Debbie Reynolds. The Seattle Girl Scout Chorus accompanied Miss Reynolds and also sang several numbers of their own. Girls who participated in the World Flag Ceremony were Corlie Johnson, Lori Kelso, Char Bolin, and Cindy Justus.

The troop is involved in a charm course taught by Mrs. Herb Smiley. They are learning posture, proper speech, hair, nail, and skin care.

In November the leaders gave a "Hippie" party to the group. The girls wore "way out" clothes, and ate whole roasted chickens, whole loaves of uncut bread, Tater Tots, and a salad of whole carrots, celery stalks, radishes, and onions. They ate off paper towels and had no eating utensils except tin cans for punch.

The girls saw two films, entitled "The Choice Is Yours" and "It is Up To You", followed by discussions.

The group also went caroling at Christmas time inviting members of BSA Troop 457 and Jr. Troop 714 members. The troop also presented the hospital and radio station with Christmas decorations.

The Cadettes elected officers, for 1970. They are: Patrol Leader, Lori Kelso, Assistant Leader, Christi Olson, Scribe, Corlie Johnson, Treasurer, Cindy Justus, Librarian, Carla Loomis, Reporter, Leslie Hatton, Troop Committee Chairman, Char Bolin, and Safety Manager, Lynn Klahn. The Challenge of Social Dependability was given to Cindy Justus, Corlie Johnson, and Char Bolin.

Rainbow Honor Night Held

Mrs. Nelma Rhyne, Grand Deputy in District 21, was honored with a surprise reception last Thursday night, February 19th in Port Angeles.

The five Rainbow Assemblies of the Olympic Peninsula paid a tribute to Mrs. Rhyne who has served as Deputy for four years. She plans to retire in June and the Rainbow girls from the District gathered together with Port Angeles Assembly #93 as hostess, to show their appreciation and love.

Worthy Advisor, Malinda Gosnell, welcomed the many guests and friends. Among those present were: Mrs. Beatrice Hanson, grand deputy Emeritus; Judy Scott, grand representative of New Jersey; Mr. William Hanson, adult member of the Grand Executive Board; Mrs. Marjory Hendricks, deputy instructor of the Grand Chapter of Washington, Order of Eastern Star; Mrs. Opal Brandland, worthy matron and Mr. William Heckman, worthy patron of Esther Chapter, Order of Eastern Star;

Mr. Al Rhyne and Rainbow dads Dave Moffat, Ed Gosnell and Glenn Greathouse. Worthy advisors present were: Virjeanne James, IForks; Nancy McDaniel, Port Townsend; and Jan Greathouse, Sequim. Past worthy advisors included: Jane Baker, Peggy Rhyne, Vicki Duncan, and Denise Rhyne of Forks; Debbie Doninger, Glenna Priest, Sally Schmocker of Port Angeles; Libby Bowman of Quilcene; and Vickie Boyce, Sequim.

The program for the evening included humorous as well as serious addenda. Seven different rose plants were presented to Mrs. Rhyne from the assemblies, each a different color of the Rainbow. During the meeting a large cement bird bath, with orchid and white decorations of birds and flowers adorning it, stood in the East. Later this was also given to her from the girls in the area. The group retired to the dining room where a large decorated cake, cookies, punch and coffee were served. Mrs. Rhyne was not only surprised but it was the first time the girls found her speechless and overwhelmed.

West End Democratic Club

The West End Democratic Club held its regular meeting Thursday February 5 at the VFW Hall in Forks.

Due to illness among the members, the January 29th meeting of the Executive Board was cancelled. There had been no work on the agenda and the various committees had not met.

President Soderlind reported on a questionnaire from Paul Connors of which Soderlind had copies made and distributed to members of the club. A discussion termed "lively" followed, members were asked to fill out the questionnaire so they could be returned to Connors.

It was decided to send a delegate to Neah Bay to meet with the Tribal Council before making any decisions in regards to holding meetings in Neah Bay.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Next meeting will be 8 p.m. March 5, at the VFW Hall.

Looks like some of the guys are about three weeks early with their big scores, and some of the gals are a week or two late.

Couple of firsts in Tuesday's Afternoon League. Barbara Allen and Kate Silves hit their first 200's and 500's this week. Kate hit a big 222-538 and Barbara a 205-540. Now that you know how its done, let's see some more of the same. girls. Judy Klahn picked up the 5-7 split, Barbara King the 2-3, and Pat Mansfield the 5-7.

Jeff Blair hit a nice 185-527 in the Jr. Mixed. Jill Horton rolled a 155-417 and Patty Laswell a 170-415.

Detta Joutsen and Helen Thomas led the Powder Puffs with a 194 and 496 respectively.

Joanne Hjelmseth tossed a 209-535 in the Hoot Owl League and Leta Rondeau came up with a 208 and a big 581 series. Jerry Beebe had a 536 and Betty Duncan had her first 500, a 504.

For Thursday's Beginners, Penny Olson threw a 155 hi 10 and Bev Johnston a 408 hi 30. Kathy Decker led the Captains with a 192 and Billie Crist had a 479. Wilma Engseth picked off the 5-8-10 and Suzanne Olson the 5-6-10.

Women's Thursday Nite had Billie Crist at 211, Jerry Beebe at 208-563, Motiur rolled a 540, Kathy Ilamby picked up the 6-7, and Irene Goos the 4-7-9-10.

Ken Kcency led the West Enders with a big 226-621. Jerry Beebe again in the Early Friday Mixed with a 216-552 and Fred Jarvis at 212-578. Paula Lyda knocked over the 6-7-10 split.

Poppy Day Plans Made

Commander Charles Fox and Erwin Thrush, Poppy Chairman, from Fletcher-Wittenborn Post #9106, paid a surprise visit to the Auxiliary, when they met on Monday, February 2nd.

Commander Fox gave a report of the Mid-Winter Conference held in Everett in January. He said all the meetings he attended were very interesting and informative. He wished more members from Fletcher-Wittenborn could have attended.

Mr. Fox told the members of the Auxiliary that plans are moving forward on the new VFW Hall to be built here in Forks. A building committee has been appointed, and he would like a committee from the Auxiliary to work with them. (President Jeanne James announced the following committee: Jackie Simmons, Shirley Fox, and Daisy Klahn).

A dance has been planned for March 14th, in celebration of the 23rd birthday of Fletcher-in Sunday Mixed! with a 244-666. Where ya been, Duke? Leta Rondeau had a 192-533.

Harry Lefler had the TV shot at Saturday Nite Monte Carlo, but failed to convert, and Ol' Dad got lucky and picked off the 6-7-10 Jackpot shot for a nice chunk of change. Also took a quarter or two off Harry and Duke in our sidepot.

Duke again with a 240 in the Forks Prairie League, Sandy Floe had a 231, John Nagel a 210-584, and George Richardson slopped over 590 pins for high series.

As of Monday nite, John Nagel's bunch leads the BPAA team event with a 2996, with Brager Bros. second at 2976.

Only two weeks to go til the Men's City Tournament fellas, better get to lining up your teams and doubles partners. Entry blanks are available at Sunset Lanes. Let's make it the biggest one yet.

Bowlers of the week: Duke Streeter 244-666, Kate Silves 222, and Leta Rondeau 581.

Wittenborn Post and Auxiliary. Invited guests, all members, wives, husbands, and "Friends" are invited to help celebrate this special occasion.

Mr. Thrush announced that it was time to order "Poppies" again, and to make plans for Poppy Days, that will soon be here. He pledged the help of members from the Post to assist in any way possible. He hoped to have a larger sale than ever before.

During the regular meeting of the Auxiliary plans to make cookies for the Firecrest Valentines Party were discussed. Each year the Auxiliaries in District #14 sponsor a party for the residents in Firecrest. Refreshments and entertainment are provided by the members, on the Sunday nearest Valentine's Day.

A donation was sent to Radio Free Europe. Shirley Fox and Jackie Simmons related their experiences at Mid-Winter Conference, which they attended.

Martha Lewis told of her visit to the Veterans Hospital, where Mr. Lewis was a patient. She said both the men and women volunteers were doing a tremendous job.

SPORTS

... by Larry Thomas Spartans Out-Last Wolves

The Forks Spartans faced their first real test of the year against stall tactics last Friday evening and came out on the long end of a 51 to 29 score against the Sequim Wolves in Olympic League action.

The Wolves, trying for a play-off berth for the State "A" Tournament in Tacoma, used a slow-down, ball control offense in an attempt to defeat the Spartans and hold down the State's leading scorer, Jerry Price. So slowed down were the tactics that the Wolves only attempted 11 shots in the entire game.

The Wolves did hold Price to a game high of 13 points, 18 points below his average, but couldn't control the rest of the Spartans as they fired through 12 shots in 30 attempts.

In the foul infested game, three players from each team left the game by ways of the 5 foul rule, the Spartans made good on 27 of 39 gift shots for 69% while the Wolves were making good on 23 of 35 from the free throw line.

The Spartans with the victory, raised their league record to 10 wins and no losses and earned their 19th straight league win in the last two years.

The Spartans will next see action in Tacoma in the State Class "A" tournament, where they placed 6th last year. Interested people will stay tuned to KVAC Sunday, March 1, to hear the results of the drawing in Tacoma to determine the Spartans' first opponent and the time they will play.

Victoria, Or Bust!

By Steve Lingvall

From March 15-17, a group of FHS students will travel to Victoria as a part of a special cultural exchange program. They will visit some of the major cultural centers in this Canadian city. During the three-day visit, the students will get to attend an opera, a concert, a visit to several museums, and other such sites. In their spare time, they will venture forth and become familiar with their surroundings.

The main attraction at the concert will be Jean-Pierre Rampal and his "magic" flute. He will be playing such selections as "Suite in B Minor" by J. S. Bach, "Adagio" by Mahler, "Concierto for Flute in D Major" by Haydn, and "Pictures from an Exhibition" by Moussorgsky-Ravel. Also, of special notice, a Travel Educational film on the ecology of the Northlands will be presented.

Among those students who will visit Victoria are Ken Schostack, Karol Bechtold, Debbie English, Charlotte Hyde, Susan Johnston, Linda Lousche, Susan Shearer, Judy Harrison, Jim Haynes, Byron Windle, Curt Maxfield, Rick Sylvester, Charles Rondeau, Dave Engel, Mary Engel, Sherry Gustafson, Anita Klahn, Karen LaChapelle, Patti Merrick, Lynda Shirley,

1,000 FOR JERRY-Jerry Price holds the ball which he dropped through the hoop Saturday night for his 1,000 point in his three years as a Spartan. Though it took the fine moves and the sharp shooting of Jerry Price, this record reflects the outstanding team play which has been displayed these past years under Coach Roy Mohondro. The ball will be placed in the school trophy case here in Spartan country. By Lonnie Archibald

KILL YOUR BUSINESS!

DON'T ADVERTISE!

Just pretend you don't have anything to advertise this week. Forget the thousands of items you have on the shelves of your store, or the service you have to offer . . . don't let potential customers know about them. IT'S A GOOD WAY TO KILL YOUR BUSINESS!

DON'T ADVERTISE!

Say you don't have the time to fix up an advertisement this week. Just let the opportunity to promote your business pass by — it will take less of your time. And you'll be less busy serving customers if they don't know what you have to offer. IT'S A GOOD WAY TO KILL YOUR BUSINESS!

DONT ADVERTISE!

Assume everybody in the area knows what you have for sale, that you've been in business so long you don't need to advertise since the customers will come to you without it. Forget that there are new potential customers coming into the community, that you have new and better products to offer. Forget that you have to keep reminding your established customers to trade with you. Forget you have competition trying to attract more customers. IT'S A GOOD WAY TO KILL YOUR BUSINESS!

DON'T ADVERTISE!

Tell yourself it costs money to advertise — that you don't get enough out of it. Overlook the fact that advertising is an investment in selling — not an expense. Be sure you don't provide for an adequate advertising budget for your firm. IT'S A GOOD WAY TO KILL YOUR BUSINESS!
