Story parade at County Library

Little Bo Peep, Cinderella, a goose, a rabbit and a robot were some of the story book characters parading through the book stacks at the County Library on Saturday, November 21st. This was the fourth story parade which Primrose Bredl. children's specialist on the County Library staff, has organized each November for the celebration of Children's Book Week.

As a combined affair for the County and City Library, children from city and county elementary schools participated, each child dressing up as a character from his favorite book. There were six prize winners. Starting with grade one, Raymond O'Kelley from the Queen of Angeles School was a winner, dressed as the Toy Soldier from the "Nutcracker". John Deckebach from Jefferson School, also chose this book, coming dressed as the Nutcracker himself. Dina Thomsen another second grader from the Queen of Angeles School received an award as a Goose from the Grimm's fairy tale "The Goose Girl*. Kristi Larsen from Franklin School won as "Mrs Piggle-Wiggle" from Betty MacDonald's book of that name. Dean Sleeper from Jefferson School was the prize winning robot from Lester Del Ray's book "The Runaway Robot". Finallay Mark Mc-Daniel of Jefferson School topped the grade five's with his Rip Van Winkle from Washington Irving's tale.

Receiving honorable mention from the judges were Phyllis McDaniel as the Rabbit in Richard Saler's story "The Rabbit and the Turnip"; Tereas Mulvaney for "Puss in Boots"; and Melisa Trivich for the Queen of Hearts from Mother Goose.

Mrs. Harry Lydiard donated five gift certificates for books, and the Olympic Stationers donated a dictionary as the 6th prize. Mrs. Lydiard, as chairman of the County Friends of the Library, sponsors of the story long blue dress "The Old parade, led the procession. Other members of her group who helped were Mrs. Ted Hermann and Mrs. Charles Canning on the refreshment committee, and Mrs. Lillian Keller and Mrs. Janet Lorden at the guest book. Also helping were Mrs. Robert Dalton, and members of the county and City library staffs. Mr. Paul Bragg, a County Library trustee, acted as master of ceremonies, and introduced Miss Hope Hodges, the county librarian, and Mr. James Kirks, the city librarian. After

After her story she called on Eleanor Doty, a former library page, who dressed in costume and playing a guitar led the youngsters in singing. Then came another story teller who, wearing the exotic costume of a native of the Baktir tribe from Iran, told an old Persian folktale. This story teller was another disguised county library trustee; Mrs. Harry Brenn of Sequim.

Don't cut that tree

With the approach of the Christmas season, the Clallam County Sheriff's office warns those who plan to cut their Christmas tree or boughs. The Sheriff's Department has in the past enforced the Department of Natural Resources harvesting The rule states: "It shall be unlawful for any person to transport over the public roads of the State of Washington more than five (5) Christmas trees, more than five native ornamental trees or shrubs, more than five pounds of cut evergreen foliage or huckleberry, more than five pieces of split cedar products, or more than five pounds of cascara bark which has been cut, picked, or collected within the State of Washington, without having in his possession a written sales invoice, bill of lading, or hartitle to or authority to have possession of specialized forest products being so transported: provided, that, with respect to specialized forest products harvested on lands under the ownership or management of an agency of the United States, such specialized forest products may be so transported under the authority of such written permit or other written document as is customarily used by the agency concerned."

The "oedar poacher" is the main target of the law, however. There have been four arrests of violators in the last few months and spot checks of individuals hauling cedar products are planned.

A dults only at Theatre?

The Olympic Theatre in Forks may be open for adults only very soon, said Mrs. Estene Fletcher, owner. Mrs. Fletcher has been the victim of extensive vandalism in the theater in the last few weeks. Said Mrs. Fletcher, "There have always been cases of over jubilant children throwing popcorn and candy, and spilled pop is inevitable, but some of the things the youngsters are doing now! I but entirely removed, along with the metal strip across the back of the seat. They are pushing so hard on the seat in front of them they have broken them loose from the floor. I might add, the seats are bolted thru the sub-flooring and they still break them loose.

The proverbial straw that broke the camel's back occurred this weekend. According to Mrs. Fletcher, ssome youngsters brought raw eggs with them to the moviee, there were cases of people geetting hit with eggs, eggs werre thrown at the screen, and all over the floor. Perhaps; the most dangerous problem facing Mrs. Fletcher is the children who bring darts to the movie, the kind of darts normally thrown at a dart board have been thrown at the screen and at the murals on the walls. It would be a tragedy if one of those darts happened to hit someone in the eye. "The only time that I don't have the destruction is when I show the "R" or "X" rated movies, " said Mrs. Fletcher. 'I want to keep this a family theater, but if parents don't do something about their children I will close it and have only adult movies. I realize that there is little to cut out of seats, not just slashed do in Forks and the theater has always been a form of entertainment for their children, but only the parents can put a stop to this. Many other theaters across the country have experienced these problems and they have gone to the adult only classification. I will do so if this deliberate vandalism does not stop immediately. I appeal to you parents.

LOCAL ACCIDENT REPORTED

Two Forks teenagers escaped serious injury in a two-car accident on Calawah Way, Monday at 8:20 p.m. The girls were Sandra K. Petrovich of Forks and her passenger, Judy Core, also of Forks. The other driver was Leo R. Tracy.

The accident occurred as both vehicles were west bound on Calawah Way and the Tracy vehicle attempted to pass the Petrovich vehicle just as Miss Petrovich attempted a left turn.

The vehicles involved were a 1968 Plymouth, driven by Tracy and a 1966 Volkswagen driven by Miss Petrovich. Both received extensive damage. Miss Core is being treated for a neck injury. There were no other injuries.

O.K. FOR STUDDED TIRES

State Patrol Chief Will Bachofner, who is chairman of the State Commission on Equipment, has announced that the regulations concerning studded tires has been amended.

The amend gert will now allow vehicles up to 10,000 pounds gross weight to be equipped with studded tires.

The previous regulation restricted the use of studded tires to only those which have a manufacturer's recommended inflation pressure of under 40

The new regulation, says Chief Bachofner, will now permit the use of studded tires to pickup trucks, carryalls, and other vehicles that are sometimes equipped with truck tires carrying over 40 pounds of air pressure.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, There is available in some Forks business places a pamphlet called N.W. Future. The miraculous recovery of an Oregon youth who had been critically wounded when his hel.copter crashed in Vietnam is recounted this month in a major article in The Reader's Digest.

Chief Warrant Officer James P. Meade, Jr., was wheeled into Madigan General Hospital, Tecoma, Washington, in August 1967, so badly injured that one authority labeled him a "hopeless vegetable." Fifteen days earlier his helicopter had been shot down; at impact, the rotor blades smashed through the cockpit, gouging out part of Meade's skull and battering his brain.

Now, at Madigan General, there was little trace of the brilliant student Meade had been when he decided to leave the University of Oregon and enlist n the Army in the hope of saving lives. Casts covered his trunk and parts of both legs. One side of his head was indented from loss of bone and exploratory surgery. He was in a coma, his weight down from 145 pounds to an emaciated 80. Iven if he lived, a doctor toli his wife, Kathy, he would never function as a human being.

Yet today Mames Meade, Jr. is studying for a degree in psychology at Portland State University, having graduated last June from Portland's Mt. Hood Community College. Clearly, the article says, he is making it.

The article credits the "miracle" of Meade's recovery largely to the concern and love shown him by fellow patients at Madigan General. A doctor in charge of the case had concludes that the young pilot remained alive only because of the "loving attention of his wife and mother, " the article

Meade was assigned to Ward 13, which housed severly disabled amputees. These men immeliately began to include Meade in their activities, despite lis deep coma. They talked to him, fed him, wheeled him around the award. Eventually, Meade did emerge from the coma. But he remained helpless, unable to walk or speak. "Prodding, cajoling, the men of Ward 13 forcec him into action, " writes author Joseph P. Blank. "He learned to nod or shake his head in answer to questions.

He began to want to talk." One day First Lt. Carol Burke, the ward's head nurse, heard Meade make some sounds in response to her "Good morning." Next day, he greeted his wife with three labored, barely understandable words -- Christmas", this holiday event, held at the Congregational Church, December 1st, was a beautiful sight. Christmas music, the odors of evergreens, candles flickering and dainty Christfestive mood for the large crowd who attended the show. It was overwhelming to view the beautiful exhibits, made from natural or commercial materials. The categories were many, some of which were table arrangements, religious, musical, candies. nuts and fruitcake, wreaths, corsages, ornaments, birds, ceramics, and on and on. Even old dried materials had their prominate place in the forms of beautiful wreaths and arrangements, in the Christmas mood. There were many entries in the horticultural show, surprising, for this winter month. Every member of the Boga-

Meditation

"Up a tree!" Have you ever been in such a position? Most of us have at one time or another. Many area of thought come to mind. One especially brings to mind a little fellow by the name of Zacchaeus. There are some great spiritual truths to be gleaned from his meeting with the Lord Jesus Christ, but I would invite your attention to the man himself.

Zacchaeus was a Jew who had taken service with Rome; a relationship that could have him with little patriatism and less religion. By taking this office hs showed that he cared more for material gain than for honor or duty. You see, a Jew publican was looked upon as no more than a thief; was regarded as an agent of the enemy and was hated discardingly. More than this, he knew he was hated. Such was the little man. Zacchaeus!

However, buried below greed, and unscrupulousness, and bitter animosity, was a little seed, perhaps the nature of which even he did not recognize. He said it was curiosity which drew him to Jesus. It could be that he was afraid to acknowledge the real reason. But he did determine to see and, if possible, touch this Man of whom he had heard such great reports of miracles, deliverence and grace! How many Zacchaeus* are reading this "Meditation"?? How many "little men" are literally "up a tree???" Perhaps they have also heard of Jesus Christ and His power to help and to save. If so, they don't have to climb a tree to meet Christ today. He is closer than life itself for He is the Life. All one has to do is cry out with faith and sincerity from his heart--"Lord. I'm up a tree." Jesus will answer, "Come down and I will go

TREE

If you are not sure how you can meet Him Who alone can answer your questions, solve your problems and meet your every need, then attend a Bible-believing, Bibleteaching Church; learn about Him and get out of that tree!!

There is joy in the tree house nestled high in the boughs ... for the boys climbing up to play in it . . . for the adults remembering the golden afternoons of their own child-

Sometimes grownups say wistfully, "I wish I were that age again." But do they really wish it? Being a child is wonderful, but maturing can be a painful process.

Help your children enjoy the precious childhood hours - never forgetting that they must grow up. Remember you have a never-ending source of guidance. The church will help your children preserve the spirit of youth and give them the wisdom, courage and faith that will sustain them through the rest of their lives.

Sunset By Fred Jarvis Highlites

Had enough turkey over the holiday to last me quite a spell. And guess what kind of sandwiches I've had in my lunches! You wouldn't believe it! Turkey!!

Sorry to say there was no report on the Tuesday Afternoon league last week. Someone pulled a boo-boo.

Ed Duncan topped the Sunset guys with a 213 and Darrell hit

Jerry Beebe rolled a 204-474, best for the Hoot Owls, and Kathy Hamby hit 183-441.

Friday Nite Mixed had John (Retired) Nagel at 213-574 and Jerry Beebe again with 185-502.

Bob West got the TV shot at Saturday Nite Monte Carlo and had the usual luck-none. Wonder who will win this colored TV set?

Sunday, Duke, Darrell, John, George and I hit Poulsbo to bowl for Clark's Vagabond in the Traveling League. George hit a 224-579 while Ol Dad lucked out with a 212-592.

A week ago last Monday nite, Ken Middleton hit a 523, his first over 500. Claude Clark had a 210 hi 10 and Ed Rondeau hit a 583. Some average, Ed.

This last Monday nite Ed proved it was no fluke as he rattled the pins for a big 224-635. Good bowling!

Boy! Almost forgot the Sunday Mixed! I'd never live it down, Reta O'Keefe topped the gals with a 196-495, Billie Crist had a 194, and Leta Rondeau a 192. Al Whitehead ripped out a 224-586, Ed Rondeau hit a big 234 but it took Darrell all day to hit his line. When he did, he hit 257 and the years high series, a 687. You never know, do you? Well, some have it and some don't.

Bowlers of the week: Jerry Beebe, 204-502; Darrell Thomas, 257-687. I think Ed Rondeau should be up there too, with his 234-635,

Well another elk season has come to a close, with an exception of course of the either-sex elk season which will remain open through January 31, 1971. In Clallam County we find three of these special areas which are open to all elk hunters who hold a valid Washington State hunting license and an elk tag. Area #8 includes a section of the Soleduck River, area #9 is situated on the Elwa River, and areas #10 is a portion of the Hoko near Sekiu. For complete area descriptions consult the 1970 Washington Game Department Hunting regulations.

BOW HUNTERS

A cool crisp morning, two inches of snow, deer tracks along a river bank and the stalk begins. This is the story of the bow hunter who takes to the great outdoors in search of deer or elk after the rifle has been placed on the rack at the end of the regular season. Although the archer must stalk his game to a close shooting range, he has several advantages over the rifleman with this special season. Unlike the regular season he can now hunt eighter sex deer or elk. The maples and alders have been striped of their leaves by this time giving the bowmen excellent views of his game range. A properly equipped bow, unlike the rifle, is relatively quiet. The bow season in area 10-B of Clallam County will run December 12 to December 31. Area 10-KN in Jefferson County will also run December 12 through December 31. Bow hunting regulations are given in the Washington Game Department hunting seasons and game bag limits pamphlet.

HERE AND THERE

Planted steelhead are now returning to the Bogachiel River. Several marked fish have been taken. Beachcombers were out in full force last week as winds blew from the northwest. No reports of any great finds, however. Again this season, as in past seasons, a large number of cow elk were shot and left; congratulations SPORT. The Washington State Department of Natural Resources has shut out oil and gas exploration and drilling in and around Puget Sound. The possibility of pollution was a big factor here. Many cheers for the enviornmentalists.

Spartans to meet Hyaks

The defending Olympic League basketball champions. the Forks Spartans, will open their 1970-71 basketball season Friday night when they travel to Moclips to take on the Hyaks. Saturday night the Spartans return home to do battle with the defending state champions the Raymond Seagulls.

The Spartans will be trying for their third consecutive trip to the State Class "A" tournament, but graduation has taken it's toll on the Spartans. Gone is Jerry Price the state's leading scorer. Rich Liles, the team's leading rebounder, Dennis Perry, the Spartans' floor general, and a host of seniors like Dave Beebe, Randy Goos, Pete Dahlgren, Jim Hull, and Ray Silcox. But Coach Mohondro has Bruce Allen, 6'4", one of last year's starters, and a groun of exciting junior varsity players who compiled a 17-win and 3-lose record.

The Spartans will open their bid for the Olympic League crown December 5 against the Port Townsend Redskins.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bable, VISTA volunteers are scheduled to leave Neah Bay soon. The Gables have been here for one year and have worked closely with the Makah Indian nation. They will be returning to their home in Philadelphia.

The Neah Bay Youth Opinion workshop is a group of teenagers who have organized for the purpose of improving conditions for teenagers in Neah Bay, creating better communications with adults, and performing other service functions for the community in general. The by-laws of the group were adopted recently. The officers of the organizations are Patty Ray, Patty Buckingham, Bob Buckingham, Mary Jean Parker, Gary Ray. The advisory council are: Clifford Haup, Tye Parker, Eugene Parker, the Makah Tribal Council, and Mr. Zonion.
