BONUS PAYMENT

Efforts made by the Washington State Highway Department to control outdoor advertising along Interstate highways have been rewarded by a Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) bonus payment of $380,415,52, Highways Director George H. Andrews told the Highway Commission. The state has qualified for such FHWA bonus payments since 1961, when the Outdoor Advertising Control Act was passed in Olympia.

Payments, which previously totalled $218,193,20, equal 1/2 of one percent of the cost of all Interstate Highway construction. Andrews said additional claims will be made to the FHWA upon completion of improvements for future control under Washington laws to regulate and control outdoor advertising and signs.

The FHWA bonus will be placed in the state Motor Vebicle Fund and used for highway purposes, Andrews said.

The check was presented by Pat Clark, FHWA Division Engineer, to the Highway Commission.

Mobile Home Owners Face Crisis

Millions of Americans will be flocking to mobile homes in the 1970's; and many will face serious insurance problems that cannot be towed away, the Insurance Information Institute warns.

The mobile home industry is booming and now provides for more than 90 percent of all one-family homes sold for under $15,000 in the United

The economic situation in Washington, a shortage of moderately-priced homes and the availability of easy-payment plans will substantially increase the ration of Evergreen State residents in mobile homes, now at 1 in 20, and the number of such homies, 38,886, in this decade.

Heard downtown that Mary Addleman is the speediest "wall-washer" in town. She goes at it "60 miles per hour". And on my way down to LaPush I stopped in for a while and talked to Pat Mansfield at Three Rivers Resort. Pat says that she likes it fine and that they have plans to enlarge the camping area and the trailer sites. The Mansfields also have their 2 cats, pidgeons and three dogs with them, but after Mrs. Johns and Mrs. Ladich the dogs came trotting through the store Pat said, 'I guess you Sparta and ancient Olympia. can't bring a farm to the store," Mrs. Johns said that Greece is and decided to leave the cattle on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bindas of Weirton, West Virginia, are visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cline and family. The Bindas drove through Canada and arrived in Forks June 30 and will be here for a couple more Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vail during the week before the 4th were Janice's niece and great-nephew, Sandra Combs and son, Joey from Arcada, Cali fornia. Spending the weekend of July 11 with the Vails were her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Merritt from Eureka, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walczyks and 3 children from Aberdeen also stopped in for a visit.

AG 2 Richard L. Rasmussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rasmussen, was home for a 5 weeks' leave from Guam for the first time in 1 1/2 years. He reported back July 13 to Jacksonville, Florida, where he will be stationed for 2 years.

Mrs. Ruth Johns returned July 14 after one month's trip to Athens, Greece. Accompanying her on the trip was her daughter, Mrs. Myrtha Ladich from Seattle. Mrs. Johns and her daughter flew to London where they spent a couple days, and then on to Rome. One of the highlights in Rome was the visit to the Vatican where the Pope came out and spoke for a few minutes and blessed the people. From Rome they went by plane to Athens where they visited with Mrs. Johns' brother. Mr. and Mrs. James Steele. Their apartment had a beautiful view overlooking the Medeterranean. Over the 4th of July visited the ruins and museums in Sust, 1971, commencing at a beautiful country and she found the people very friendly and easy to talk to as most of them speak English.

Slowly but surely, we're getting into the swing of things. Vacations have a way of making one reluctant to get back into the old rut. Our trip included a visit to Roseacre Farms in Twin Falls, Idaho. Lyle and Butch Wonderlich are great people and gave us a grand tour of their ranch which includes registered Paints, Quarter Horses, Welsh pories and one Appaloosa, Of course our interest was in the Paints and Quarter Horses, and the quality of their collection is supberb. They are of the Tinky Poo Quarter bloodlines. Their senior stallion, Tinky Spook, is outstanding in conformation, production and performance. He is bay and white in color and is a typical Quarter horse in all aspects of build and temperament. Of course, we had to see all this year's babies and lovely they were. Some came in solid colors, but the ratio was very good toward color.

The ironic part of this was the weekend of July 10 and 11 when we were to compete with Roseacre Farms in the show ring. Our colt, Dollars Dandybob, took first over their Tinky Spook colt on Saturday --- then Dandy took a second to the same colt on Sunday. Two judges saw these horses through different eyes. That's the fun and sport of horse showing. We felt extremely successful to Roseacre horse. They're hard to beat. Back to the vacation: one day as we were loping down a highway in Eastern Oregon, we passed a farm with a nice herd of cattle and some Shetland ponies. Then we had to double-take our view of this pasture because, of all things. grazing along with these commonly domestic creatures was for a farmer, huh? We were very proud of our little "Sam", the Corgi. He traveled very well. Never made any noise unless it was one quick, sharp bark to announce the need of an emergency stop, to which we readily obeyed. The only motel where we ran into a rejection because of a dog was in Olympia on our way home! My husband was extremely offended (more so than Sam, I'm sure), and promptly began making plans to annihilate the place. I finally talked him out ot it -thank heaven!

We made the most of one short week and found it was the best vacation either one of us has ever taken.
